Imerys Graphite & Carbon is committed to continuously improving the integrated management system with regards to Quality, Environment, Health and Safety (QEHS), which is built through collaboration, and sustained by its process owners.

Driving this cultural commitment at all levels allows us to comply with, and even exceed, the needs and expectations of customers and other stakeholders by providing products, solutions and services according to the highest industry standards. As an absolute minimum, IGC complies with all statutory and regulatory requirements.

In support of our vision and mission, IGC integrates risk management fundamentals in all business processes to minimize any adverse effect on Quality, Environment, Health and Safety and monitors objectives to ensure strategic alignment.

Consistent with our view on sustainable development, IGC is committed to reduce the impact of its operations on the Environment, Health and Safety of all of its stakeholders for present and future generations.

IGC supports and develops all of its employees to display the right behaviors consistent with the company values (respect, responsibility, listening, integrity and competence) to bring this QEHS policy to life.
